AffiliateShop's PremierPay feature processes affiliate payments and reduces service times for AffiliateShop clients and end users.

PremierPay combines the convenience of PayPal with a mass payment system for AffiliateShop clients.

Winston-Salem, NC (PRWEB) January 7, 2007, Pendulab, a developer of enterprise level software applications and a division of SolidSpace, announced today a new AffiliateShop PremierPay feature. PremierPay, a mass payment system for Pendulab's affiliate marketing software, AffiliateShop, automates the check distribution process for its clients through the convenience of PayPal.

Investing in an affiliate program boosts inbound links to your site and allows other web sites to market for you. AffiliateShop offers an all inclusive affiliate tracking and administration solution that manages affiliate's banners, maintains positive communications with affiliates, tracks their performance, and pays out commissions. With the new PremierPay payment feature, merchants are able to set payment schedules, pre-approve payments and view payment history for a small monthly service fee. With any business time is money, this new service allows merchants additional free time with the convenience of managing one escrow account and eliminating check writing and processing.

"Pendulab is always seeking new ways to improve its customer service" stated Jim Capps, president of Pendulab and SolidSpace. "By developing the PremierPay feature, we hope to make operating an affiliate marketing program even more lucrative and convenient for our AffiliateShop clients."
